The Beynon Manuscript - (4 Reels, guide on Reel 1)
"The Beynon Manuscript was processed and transcribed by William Beynon, a native speaker of the Tsimshian language. He recorded the history, ethnography, and literature of his people. Included in the collection are:
narratives of clan histories and myths descriptions of traditional ceremonies, practices, and beliefs
In the mid-1930s, Beynon worked with Franz Boas, helping with precise translations of Tsimshian tales that Boas had recorded in phonetic orthography several decades earlier. Beynon added significant material and clarified passages that had been previously misinterpreted. Boas then indexed, abstracted, and arranged into several volumes the more than 10,000 pages of The Beynon Manuscript. He presented the entire collection to Columbia University, where the original manuscript is now preserved in the Rare Book and Manuscript Division of Butler Library."
